

NCRGEA Government Relations Update #21-30
September 8, 2021

THANK YOU for standing up and hearing the call to tell our legislators that a cost-of-living adjustment isn't a political football—for many, it's the line in the sand separating us from poverty or a livable standard of living. And the fight still isn't over. While we think progress is being made, we're still cautious. Your voices continue to be a most important. Legislative leaders have said the budget process may go into October. As we hope the legislature will conclude their business sooner, we will continue to engage with legislative membership until the final budget is engrossed.

Visit NCRGEA Government Relations to find contact information for your legislators as well as Senate and House appropriation chairpersons. You'll also find government relations updates and other information on our association government relation's efforts.

And as always, thank you for being a part of our retiree family.

Stay tuned!

Richard Rogers
NCRGEA Executive Director